what cheer

do you get from big bills for wood? Not much, eh? Why not get a gas stove and keep the price of the dinner down to the minimum instead of adding to it through the fuel expense. There is nothing so cool in the kitchen, nothing so satisfactory to the cook and nothing that will bake or roast better than a gas stove. This is not mere catch penny advertising statement but a fact borne out by the users of a gas stove every day in the year. And there is nothing that cannot be better cooked on a stove of the sort that we sell, than on a wood stove.

Other dealers in housefurnishings sell them, too.
